send the event information to paths@uchicago.edu.

If you are hosting a relevant event that you would like featured this newsletter, please submit to the PATHS Newsletter.

In this newsletter you will find a range of resources and opportunities to help you build your professional network, explore career paths, and make the most of your time as a graduate student in the humanities. Read on to learn more.

Did you know...

- There are many different career options available to humanities PhDs.
- It's important to tailor your career search to your interests and strengths.
- Networking is a crucial part of building your professional network.

Reading List

- Translating Work: Careers in Consulting
- Careers in Data Science
- Careers in Publishing

PATHS Workshop Held on February 26, 2019

The PATHS workshop held on February 26, 2019 included presentations and activities designed to help participants improve their job search skills, build their professional network, and explore career options. Participants had the opportunity to practice writing effective resume and cover letter, learn effective strategies for networking, and engage in discussions on career development.

PATHS Newsletter

The PATHS newsletter is a monthly publication that provides resources and information to help humanities PhDs build their professional network, explore career paths, and make the most of their time as graduate students. The newsletter features articles, event announcements, and career resources.

Diversity Fellowship at University of Chicago Press

The University of Chicago Press is seeking a Diversity Fellow to join their acquisitions department. The fellow will serve in an entry-level position and will assist in the process of acquiring manuscripts for publication. The fellowship is funded by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and will begin on September 1, 2019.

University of Chicago

The University of Chicago is a top-tier research university with a strong focus on the humanities. The university offers a range of programs and resources to support graduate students in their academic and professional development.

---

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book. This email was sent to paths@uchicago.edu.

View this email. Share this email: