CAREER INSIGHTS

Did You Know?

Did you know that 52% of Spring 2017 graduating PhDs involved in academic life have earned one of an additional degree in the past 10 years? This data come from Inside Higher Ed.

Reading List

The following books can help you chart a course toward careers in academia, humanities, or humanistic social sciences:

1. Do you have upcoming academic job interviews or campus visits? Put your best foot forward by learning to craft a great resume and cover letter.

2. Want to explore your career options outside academia? This PATHS newsletter will help you learn about teaching opportunities at independent high schools.

Are you curious about what it’s like to work in an independent high school? Attend the High School Teaching Trek to the Lab School on January 14th.
