PATHS NEWSLETTER

Events and Programs

Credible in Higher Education Administration

Marquardt and Follet, which is one of the few research-based texts specifically written for the master's degree in higher education administration (HEA), is geared towards new and veteran administrators in colleges and universities. The text offers a practical focus to guide and refresh long-time HEA professionals, and it provides a useful pedagogical approach for new ones.

Application Deadline: Jan. 18

French Heritage Society Internship

The French Heritage Society, a French-American foundation, seeks three interns for its Conservation and Audience Development programs. This opportunity is open to students in French, French literature, American Studies, Art History, American Art History, Art, Art Conservation, or museum studies.

Application Deadline: January 18

Pathways to the Professoriate

The Center of Teaching and Learning offers a new series of professional development sessions designed for PhD students and postdoctoral scholars. In the upcoming month, sessions will focus on Fundamentals of Public Speaking, Fundamentals of Business Writing, and Fundamentals of Nonprofit Administration.

Pathways to the Professoriate: Fundamentals of Public Speaking

Through this course, you will hone your speaking skills and learn how to construct a compelling presentation. Dr. Monica Felix, a well-known public speaker and author, will lead hands-on workshops at the University Club of Chicago. To participate, RSVP in GRAD Gargoyle (ID# 67957)

Thursday, Jan. 21, 2:00–3:00 p.m. Zoom. RSVP in GRAD Gargoyle (ID# 67957)

Pathways to the Professoriate: Fundamentals of Business Writing

In this introductory course, you will learn how to craft a compelling business letter, prepare a clean, professional resume, and write a thoughtful cover letter. Dr. Brittany Hayden, a former BCG consultant, will lead hands-on workshops at the University Club of Chicago.

Application Deadline: Jan. 20

Pathways to the Professoriate: Fundamentals of Nonprofit Administration

Through this course, you will gain a better understanding of nonprofit management and mission, and will learn how to distribute resources among various stakeholders. You will also explore the nonprofit sector and its impact on society.

Pathways to the Professoriate: Fundamentals of Nonprofit Administration

Thursday, Jan. 21, 12:30–1:30 p.m.

Career Forums and Workshops

Join UChicagoGRAD for an inaugural forum that connects you with employers in the social impact sector. The event will feature brief informational presentations from employers and pre-scheduled one-on-one meetings with speakers. Employers expected to participate include the National Academies of Science, Engineering, and Medicine, the University of Chicago, and the Chicago Community Trust.

Wednesday, Feb. 3, 10:00 a.m.–1:00 p.m.

Nonprofit and Higher Education Administration: History, Context, Futures.

The program is self-paced and managed through Canvas. On completion, you will receive a digital badge. For more information about the program and the enrollment process, visit the UChicagoGRAD pathway on Canvas. For questions, emailЛЕС

Interested in a career in higher education administration? UChicagoGRAD's Credential in Higher Education Administration (HEA) enables current graduate students and postdocs to explore careers in this area of the academy, industry, nonprofits, and government. This newsletter features an interview with Dr. Nicole Okines, the Director of the Credential in Higher Education Administration (HEA).

Did You Know?

With your PhD in the humanities and humanistic studies, you have two unique opportunities to pursue a career outside of the professoriate. One of these opportunities is the French Heritage Society Internship, which seeks three interns for its Conservation and Audience Development programs. The other opportunity is the American Historical Association’s Washington Internship Program, which seeks three interns to work in a variety of positions in the nation’s capital.

Join UChicagoGRAD for a Career Forum that connects you with employers in the social impact sector. The event will feature brief informational presentations from employers and pre-scheduled one-on-one meetings with speakers.

Wednesday, Feb. 3, 10:00 a.m.–1:00 p.m.

CAREER INSIGHTS

While looking for their next professional opportunity, many people in the humanities and humanistic studies community wonder what their options are outside of academia. Two former PhDs share their career journeys and offer advice on navigating the job market.

Follow an editorial path like this

Pursue a curatorial career at a museum like this

Other Job/Internship Opportunities

Undergraduate Research Programs and Initiatives. For more info, visit

Submit to the PATHS Newsletter